

CANNING CONVEYOR CO. LTD

HEALTH & SAFETY AT WORK HEALTH and SAFETY POLICY

Canning Conveyor Co Ltd recognises its Health and Safety duties and responsibilities under The Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 and the Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations 1999.

Prime responsibility for implementation of this policy lies with the Managing Director of Canning Conveyor Co Ltd and the Management team, through each Manager and Supervisor across the company.

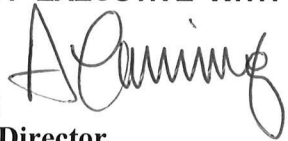

We aim through our Policy to continually assess the implications of our activities and also to actively seek the co-operation of our employee's, Clients and Sub-contractors in integrating Safety into all that we do.

We Will: -

- Ensure that Health and Safety is seen as a Management responsibility ranking equally with responsibility for operations, sales, finance and quality.
- Ensure that everything practical is done to prevent personal injury and maintain a safe place to work.
- Ensure that we meet or exceed all legislation concerning the protection of our staff or those affected by our activities.
- Ensure that we allocate adequate management time and resources to fully meet the objectives and procedures set by the management team of Canning Conveyor Co Ltd.
- Ensure that we promote the co-operation of all our employees by:-
 - Demonstrating clear senior management commitment staff consultation the provision of awareness and training programmes.
 - Ensure that our sub-contractors and suppliers to utilise sound Health and Safety practices and dedication sufficient resources through making this an integral part of our Procurement Policy.
 - Monitor and continually seek improved Health and Safety performance.

SIGNED BY EXECUTIVE WITH OVERALL RESPONSIBILITY FOR HEALTH & SAFETY:

A Canning
Managing Director

22 April 2010